Sustainable Cities Course, 10th Edition

Date: December 6-9, 2016

Venue: Montego Bay, Jamaica

Course Objective:
To provide theoretical and practical knowledge of the different elements that contribute to the development of sustainable cities to government officials and members of civil society involved in planning processes and urban development.

Sustainable Cities Virtual Network

This is an interactive space where you will find relevant information about our events, workshops and news. You are also invited to share your experiences of sustainability and start collaborative work with other members.

All participants of Sustainable Cities Course are invited to be a part of our network, share their regional projects and experiences, and meet other members with similar interests.
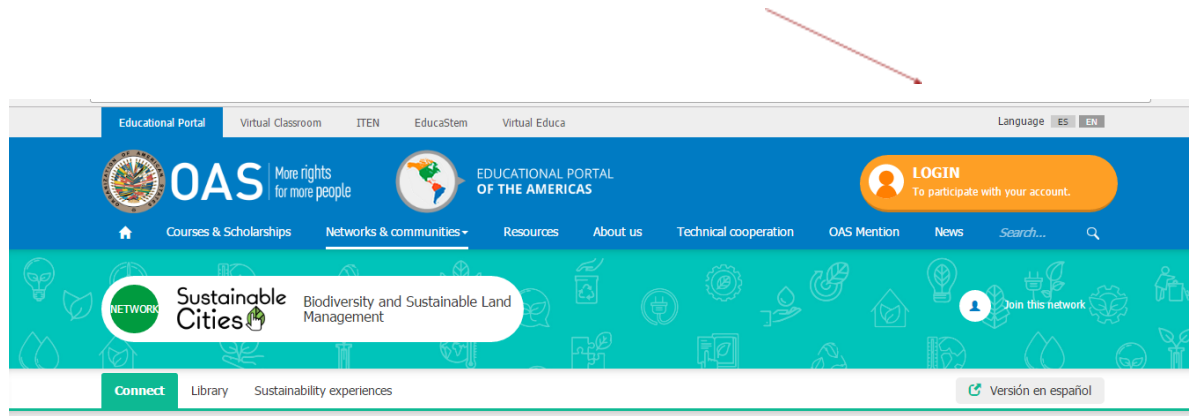

For this edition of our course, we have created a special section in the Virtual Network. This space is designed to share knowledge and discuss the subjects of the course.
There is also a place to upload the discussion/notes from the Jamaica breakout groups.

This is a step by step guide for logging into the virtual community and to publish information.
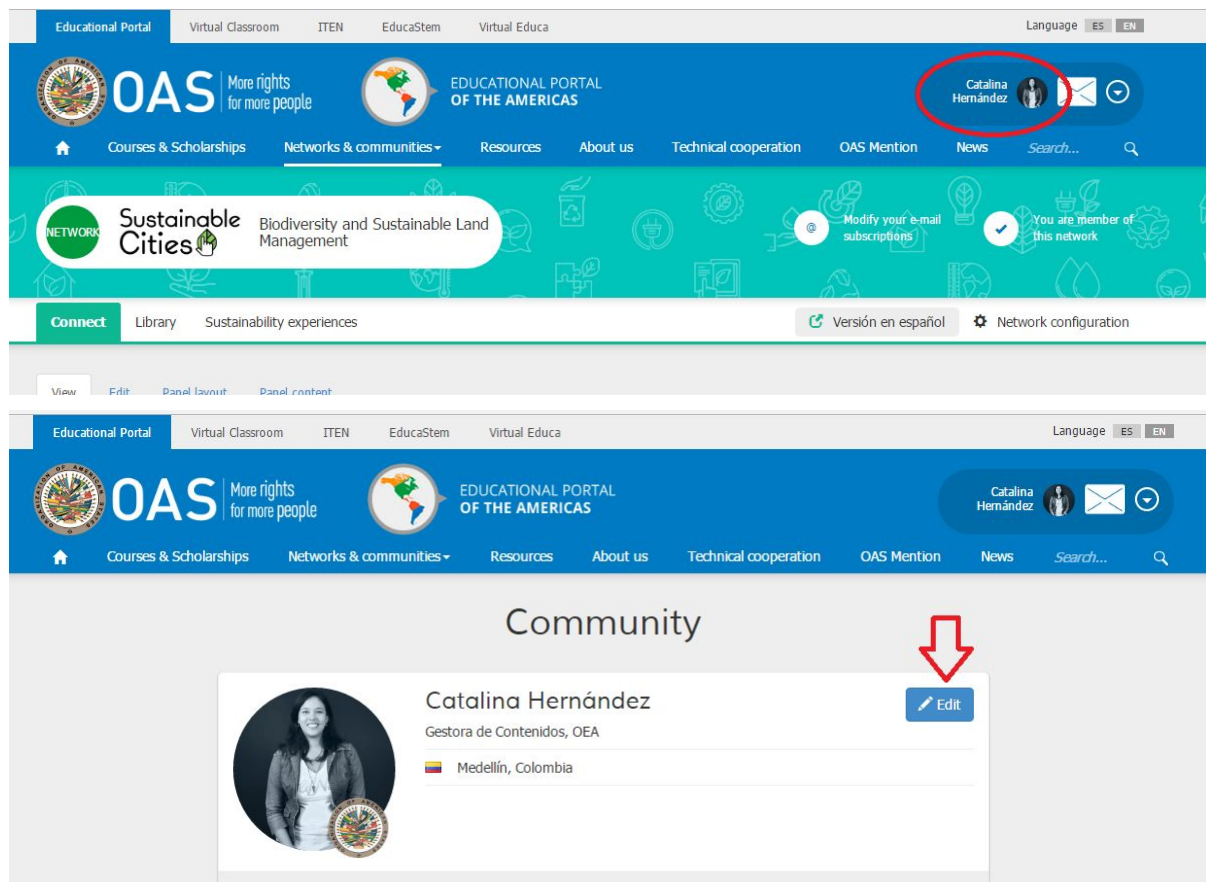

Step 1: Sign up in the Portal of Education of The Americas (Link)

In the upper right-hand corner you will find an orange button to login (The fastest way is using a Facebook account. OAS won't take any personal information, only your name and profile picture).

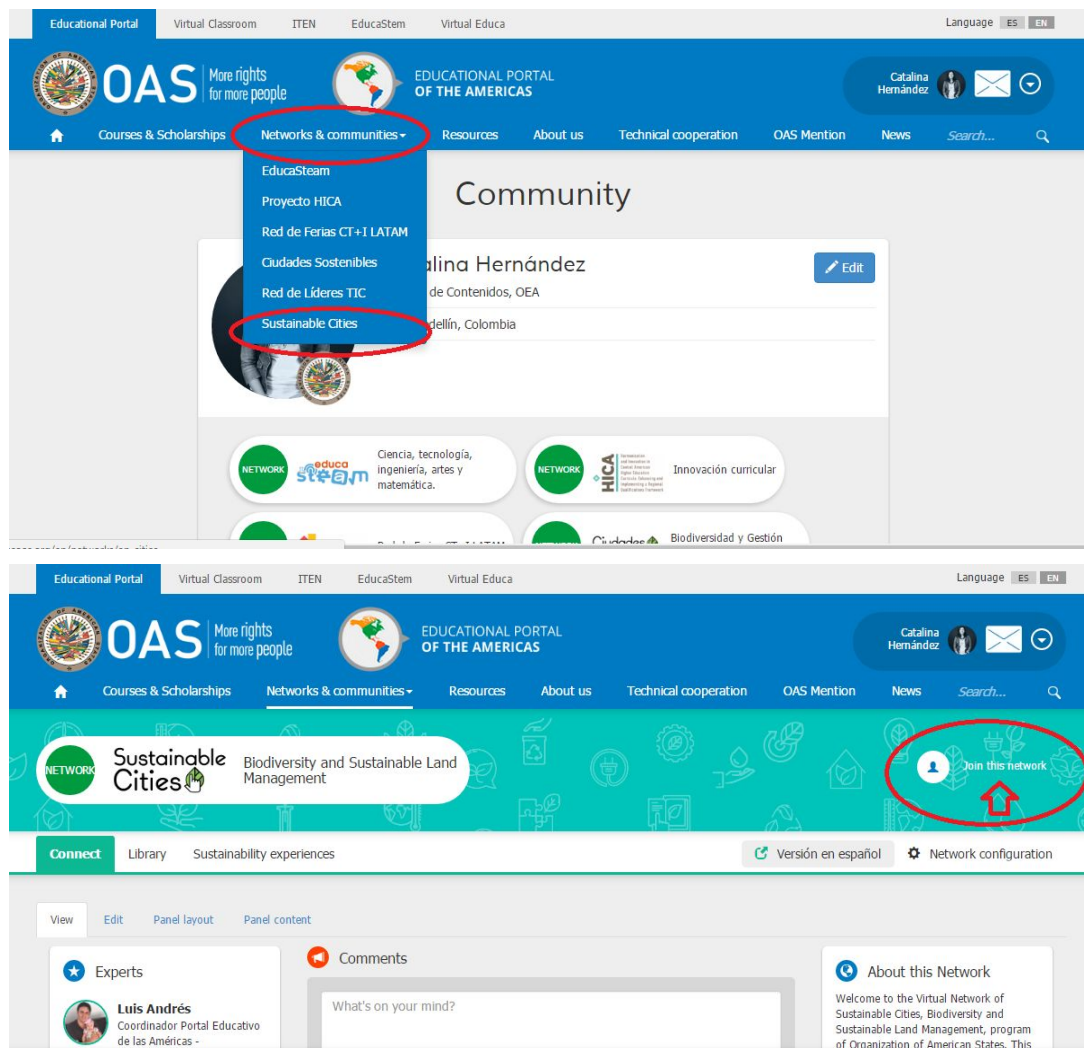

Step 2: Edit or improve your profile

Once you are logged in, click on the photography camp to edit the content of your profile (Picture, professional experience, interest areas).

Step 3: Join the virtual Network of Sustainable Cities

Go to the upper menu and open the "Networks & Communities" option. Click on "Sustainable Cities". Then, click on "Join this network".
The admin of the page will allow your access to the network (It could take some minutes).

Step 4: Join the Jamaica's Course Community
Once you are a part of our network you will be able to publish on our wall. You can also talk to other participants by message.

We would like for you to join us in the Jamaica's Course Community, where we will publish important information and where we expect you to upload your discussion/notes from the breakout groups.
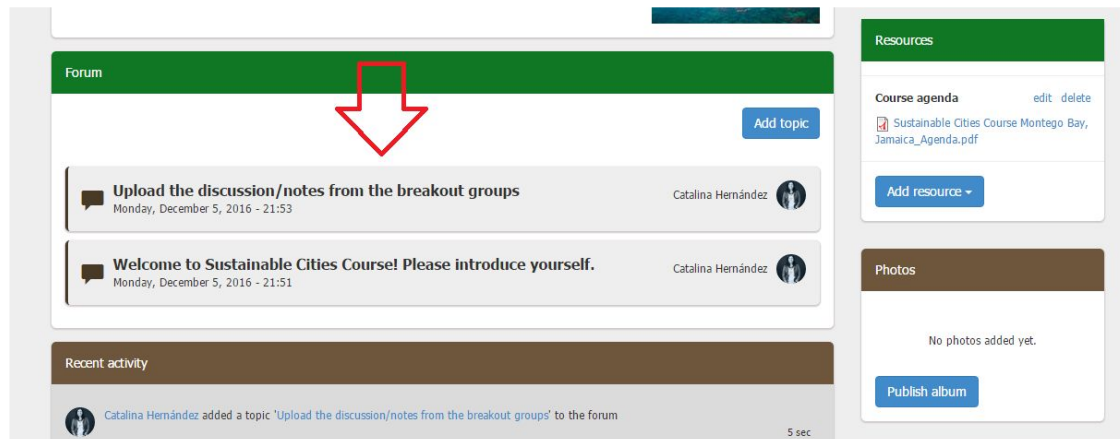

Click on: "Sustainable Cities Course, 10th Edition (Jamaica)" located in the the left-hand column.

Click the option: "Join this community of practice." Once you join the group, you will have access to the event content.

Step 5: Please feel free to participate in this community and upload your notes in the forum space:
